

Proposed 'Gag' Order Still Undecided

BY BETTY MEAD

Without publicly seeking a legal opinion as to its constitutionality, members of the Placentia City Council Tuesday night discussed and continued a proposed policy for city government that would make it possible to levy a $10 an hour research fee against its citizens seeking public information.

Recourse in case the information were not forthcoming or the fee would be deemed exorbitant would be left to the discretion of the city administrator.

The considered policy it was pointed out, could also block information made available to the press. At no time during the discussion opened to the public was there reference to the number or amount of inquiries that have been received by city staff.

Action on the proposal is expected to be taken by city council at its meeting on Tuesday, October 5. Presenting the proposal Tuesday night was City Administrator Edwin Powell who began that "this is a result of a recent discussion with the council at which time it was mentioned that some sort of policy should be established that would cover requests that may arise from time to time. We took it upon ourselves to prepare something like this."

Powell did not say where the council discussion had taken place.

Making the most detailed presentation from the audience was

Max Ellis, a longtime citizen of Placentia, who indicated he had been seeking information since April concerning pay rates of city employees, not by name but by position.

"I was told at that time and I continued to be told that the information is not readily available. So far as I know, the city has met a payroll every two weeks. It seems logical to me that the absolute bare minimum information necessary to meet a payroll is the base salary or wage of the employees being paid. "Yet I continue to be told that this information is not readily available and many hours of staff time would be required to assemble the information."

Ellis stated that in his opinion "this (proposal) may be one of the most insidious documents I have seen come down the pike in many years of watching city councils and school boards in action."

"The city should desire to obey the law. If I really thought it was a wholehearted desire, I wouldn't be standing here."

Ellis said that he had no objections to submitting requests in writing and added "In view of the frequent unavailability of department heads, I hope this is not intended to require submittal in person."

"There is no indication (in the proposal) as to when the department head can be expected to make his estimate. There is no way the applicant can judge whether his

Teachers Reconsider Contract

A second look at a contract between the 700 teachers of the Placentia Unified School District and the taxpayers was forwarded Monday night by representatives of the Placentia Unified Education Association and PUSD trustees.

The renegotiated document, which has had a second go-round, will now be placed before PUEA membership for a further vote.

PUEA membership recently negated a proposed contract with a 83 per cent no vote. The vote was 425 to reject and 89 to accept.

The contract rejection could have led to returning to the negotiation table, which was accomplished Monday, or to declaring an impasse, Kerry Johnson, president of PUEA pointed out. The second option might have resulted in a mediator being called in to assist in the consideration of items PUEA members wanted to discuss further.

At Monday night's meeting of PUSD trustees, Johnson led with an opening statement formally informing the board that the proposed contract had been resoundingly rejected. He then recommended a return to negotiations and added that outside that eventuality "we will be forced to begin impasse procedures under the provisions of the Rodda Act."

Renegotiations were opened on the spot and according to PUEA officials concerned principally class size, an evaluation program and the working day. These areas apparently were settled sufficiently to the satisfaction of PUEA negotiators to return to their membership for a second vote. This election is expected to be conducted Wednesday, October 6 with the report available to trustees on Thursday, October 7 in time for a special PUSD board meeting.

Johnson said that the PUEA board of directors is expected to recommend approval of this document to its membership. The recommendation for the previous vote was for denial.

Non-Teaching Employees Granted 5.2% Raise

Classified, or non-teaching, employees of the Placentia Unified School District are working with a new contract approved by trustees this week which grants a 5.2 per cent cost-of-living increase.

California School Employees Association (CSEA), Chapter 293, which represents the approximately 460 classified employees, covered by the contract, voted last week to accept the agreement. Cost of the increase is $160,000.

"Negotiators agreed to keep the present Classified Employees Handbook in effect until June 30 and begin bargaining on next year's contract no later than January 15," explained Roger Scott, director of classified personnel and the district's negotiator.

In addition, the agreement provides for the current level of health and welfare benefits, which includes paid prescriptions and an annual physical examination for employees. District-paid life insurance will be increased from $10,000 to $20,000.

Employees also have the option of retiring at the age of 55 with district-paid health and welfare benefits until they reach 65 or become eligible for government assistance.

Other provisions of the agreement call for a study of districts used in salary surveys, review of the position of summer school clerk, release time for three CSEA members to attend the annual association conference with expenses paid for one delegate and additional vacation days for long-time employees.

The original proposal presented by CSEA in June called for a 12 per cent salary increase with upward adjustments based on the cost-of-living index.

"Negotiations were conducted on a very professional level, with bargaining continuing until agreement was reached on all items," Scott said. Beverly Moreau headed the CSEA negotiating team.

Moratorium Called On Home Inspection

An apparent difference of opinion between a committee of realtors from the City of Placentia and Councilwoman Virginia Farmer over the controversial Residential Records Reports, has led to a 120-day moratorium on the activity.

The Residential Records Reports requirements, which involves an interior and exterior inspection of all homes in Placentia going on the market, was made mandatory in Placentia two years ago.

The special realtors board, represented by Frank Szalwinski of Herbert Hawkins Realtors, speaking before the Placentia City Council Tuesday night, had a brief recommendation, "Repeal the ordinance."

The realtors pointed out that "it is unenforceable. There is no policing agent and no good way to police it. Parties who want to avoid the ordinance can and do, while law abiding citizens incur the additional expense and aggravation."

The Reports, before the moratorium, involved a standard inspection fee of $15. However, complaints have reached attention of councilmen that too many other charges are incurred when the inspections are made. These involve payments for permits for unreported improvements that may have been accomplished sometime in the past.

Mrs. Farmer pointed out in her written statement that "the recommendation to repeal the ordinance comes from a special

Cason's Demotion Upheld By Board

On a split decision, the alleged incompetency as a supervisor of Sgt. Eugene Cason, a 17-year-veteran of the Placentia police force, was upheld Wednesday night by members of the city's Personnel Appeals Board.

The ruling confirms and continues Cason's demotion to a patrolman by Police Chief Norman Traub.

The decision was handed down on a group of four charges leveled against Cason by Traub and confirmed only in part by the appeals board.

On the first charge, failure to

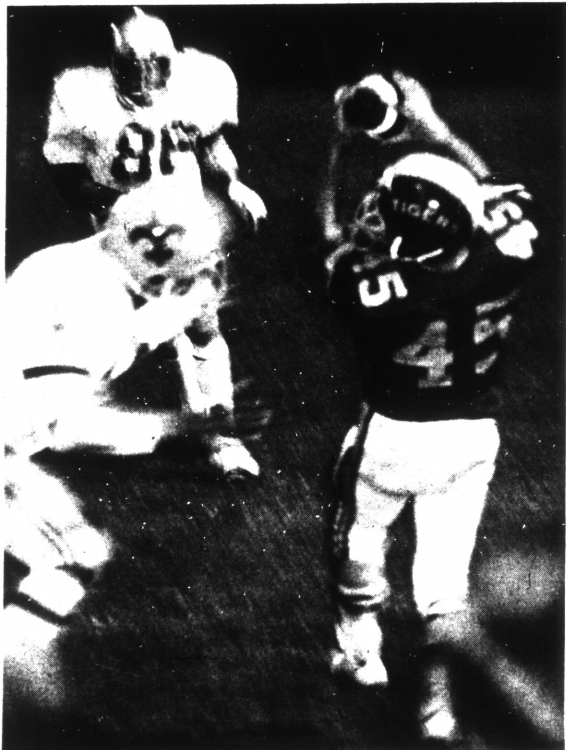

Administrators At Conventions

Both City Hall and the Police Station were without their top administrators this week.

City Administrator Edwin Powell and Mrs. Powell are reported in Toronto, Canada through Thursday, attending the International City Management Association's annual conference.

Police Chief Norman Traub is in Miami, Florida through Thursday, attending the International Association of Chief of Police's annual conference.

The administrators usually attend the conferences each year, administrative executive secretary Betty Bradford confirmed.

Tigers Triumph With Walloping Win!

The tireless Valencia Tigers scratched their way out of a 24-game losing streak Friday night by chalking up their first football victory since October, 1973.

The victims were the San Dimas Saints on the losing end of a 14 to 7 score.

"San Dimas was the Number 10 rated team in the CIF," head Tiger football coach, Fred Workman related following the game. "However, I'm not sure that's how they're rated now."

It was a first Valencia victory for Coach Workman, who knows well how victories feel, but not lately since taking over the Tiger helm. Valencia sports have been somewhat in the doldrums since the school split into two campuses and became Valencia and Esperanza.

But the campus will be back together again temporarily next Friday night, though on different sides of the scrimmage line, when the Tigers meet the Aztecs in battle at 7:30 p.m. at Bradford Stadium.

"Esperanza has an excellent team and a lot of well fed players," Workman contemplated this week. "But we've got some hungry Tigers!"

The victory earned Friday night was long in coming and Workman credited the "efforts of a lot of good kids and hard working coaches."

RV Ordinance Deletes Autos

A section of a recreational vehicle parking ordinance that would make it illegal for Placentia residents to park their own cars in their own driveways for more than 72 hours at a time, was dropped from the new ordinance passed 6 to 0 Thursday night by the city's planning commission.

The recreational vehicle measure, including three new provisions, will continue to the city council in about three weeks.

Arnold Hamala, director of planning for the city told commissioners concerning restrictions on parking regular vehicles in driveways -- "It was recommended for removal because we did not feel that it was practical to enforce."

Placentia's "nuisance" laws on all types of recreational vehicles and equipment and their parking on or at private property, appear to depend largely on complaints from neighbors as to how they are enforced, it was pointed out during the testimony from an ample number of citizens who filled the City Council Chambers last week.

Changes approved by commissioners, which will now be forwarded to the city council, include a relaxation of the current regulations to permit recreational vehicle owners seven days out of 14 to park their vehicles for loading purposes.

It was pointed out that large camping vehicles must be washed, activated so that refrigerators work, cleaned and loaded inside. Supplies must be stored.

Alan P. Fraser, a Placentia professor, who stores his camper in La Habra, pointed out to commissioners that it may take a vehicle owner a week, working in his spare time, to prepare his vehicle for [Continued on page 2]

New Police Category

The possibility that Placentia will have three police captains in the near future, was forwarded here this week with information that the item is among those currently being considered in city staff negotiations.

Lee Sale, Director of Personnel for the city said that the item has been proposed.

Cason Demotion

Wallace Curl turning in a minority report, finding the charge not proved.

A fourth charge on making insulting and offensive remarks to a fellow officer in the presence of others was found not proved and was not discussed in public.

The action concluded about 15 hours of testimony where members of the police department found themselves testifying on opposite sides of the podium. The hearings were opened to the public by Cason who had the sole right to do so. The City Council chambers where the hearings took place were usually filled.

Curl, who is also principal of Ruby Drive Elementary School, based his minority report on the board's perusal of Cason's personnel file.

"The personnel file of the appellant has been introduced as evidence," Curl began. "If one were to go through any employee's file and read these report card like ratings, it would show what kind of job that person had done over a specified period of time."

"Evaluations set by several supervisors over a long period of time in the area of supervisory ability, do not indicate that Mr. Cason was rated unsatisfactory with one exception....

"In fact on the most recent performance evaluation, signed by the appellant and his supervisor, the evaluation discussed on February 12, 1976, Eugene Cason was rated as competent in supervisor ability....

"It appears to me that he either has been rated by nice guys who do not want to say it as it is to Cason or the evaluations are correct. His behavior at times which leaves much to be desired, has been repeatedly accepted...."

The decision of the board was forwarded to City Administrator Edwin Powell who has upheld the decision made by Traub, it was reported this week.

Recreational Vehicles

a trip and another seven days to mothball it again.

"There is no way that I can conform to the present ordinance of 24 hours. There is no way. This means that I either have to sell my recreational vehicle. And I wish to do neither," Fraser pointed out.

The new ordinance, which allows for this eventuality, however does not consider the legality of a vehicle owner who might require a seven day period on both ends of a weekend trip.

Also included in the new ordinance is a requirement for six-foot screening for recreational vehicles that are parked on private property behind the front yard setback. A year's leniency was listed on this stipulation to permit vehicle owners to comply. New regulations call for a six-foot opaque screening superseding a former five-foot-high requirement.

Not mentioned in the lengthy discussions for which the special planning commission session was called, was the appearance of a recreational apparatus which may be considerably taller than six feet and will show over the beautifying setback fencing.

A third consideration in the new rules is to allow motor vehicles to park in a sideyard adjacent to a street, now prohibited by law.

Approximately 15 people spoke from the audience pointing out their particular circumstances and hardships or seeking further information.

Mrs. Lee Van Gorden, planning commission chairman, appeared, however in presiding, to discourage any legal input from Placentia residents in favor of a ruling made by the office of the Placentia City Attorney that the matters under consideration "according to the Supreme Court of the United States are empowered...."

Placentia attorney-engineer George Bean, who is a former executive officer of Orange county's Office of Emergency Services reported that he has no recreational vehicle, but stated that in his legal opinion, "there are some parts of the ordinance that definitely infringe on the rights of people, particularly in the part on screening."

"It is a fact," Bean continued, "that people use these vehicles for recreational purposes. It is a part of our daily living. There should be no further restrictions placed on them which are difficult to meet."

Bean also took exception to Mrs. Van Gorden's opening statements that "we are not concerned tonight with anyone's individual problems or the fact that you question the constitutionality of restricting RV parking in certain areas. We have a representative from our city attorney's office present and he can interrupt or interject if he feels that something we are doing is illegal at this time."

The local attorney who was rung off by a bell timer was loudly applauded by the audience.

Also questioning the legal aspects of the proceedings was Don Kober, Carlsbad Street, who queried: "When will we be given the opportunity to discuss the constitutionality of this ordinance either existing or proposed?"

"I have the results of 32 court cases across the country that have all been found in favor of the RV owner parking his vehicle on his own property from the lowest courts up to the latest one which was in Euclid, Ohio," Kober recounted.

Mrs. Van Gorden read two letters opposed to liberal parking regulations of recreational vehicles around homes, especially concerning safety features and stated that she had received 35 telephone calls all opposed to recreational vehicle residential parking. However, none of these persons appeared to speak in favor of restrictions. The dialogue from the public was all opposed.

Tri-City Park

Construction on Tri-City Park, the 40-acre lake oriented recreational facility owned by Placentia, Brea, Fullerton and Orange County, is expected to start this year, the park authority announced Wednesday night.

Architects plans for the ambitious project are now with the State Department of Parks and Recreation and are expected to return in three weeks. At that time the facility will be let out for bid.

Tribute Wednesday night, was paid to Richard Samp, Placentia Director of Recreation and Maintenance Services for his vast contribution to organizing the multiple effort.

R.K. Fox, Fullerton City Attorney, who gives legal counsel to the group, stated "I've been with the Authority since the beginning and I never would have believed that three cities and the county could get along as well and productively as this authority has and I think it's due largely to Dick Samp."

$10 An Hour Fee

estimate is reasonable. There is no way the applicant can judge the validity of the decision of the department head."

Ellis pointed out that assigning the final appeal function to the city administrator, who might in some instances be reluctant to release information, is too close to the proverbial assignment of the fox to guard the chicken coop.

"This proposed policy is bad policy. It can be used and may have been designed to be used to further tighten the cloak of secrecy surrounding the handling of the people's business."

"I ask that you reject it out of hand," Ellis concluded.

Placentia Attorney Robert Whitmore, also from the audience, stated that he questioned that the proposal might violate the proclamations of both the federal and state constitutions. "I think it is a blatant attempt to discourage the dissemination of public information," he added.

Also speaking were Mrs. Bonnie Scarpa and Mrs. Zoe Long, who pointed out that the document would encourage public apathy and was dangerous.

With Councilman Jack Gomez absent, the four council members who were in session until almost 2 o'clock in the morning, discussed the controversial proposal.

Mayor Pro Tem William Rashford declared: "I do feel that something like this is a necessity to protect the interest of the taxpayer in general against excessive requests from individuals that may tie up staff time to a great extent."

"However, I have some concerns about the proposed policy. I do feel that it is not definite enough, indicating what we mean by routine requests for information....

"The other concern I have is that this could be deadended at the staff level...."

Mayor George De Jesus: "I concur with some of these points of view but particularly on what we refer to as routine. I'm afraid we are going to get into one of those exercises again as to where do we go from here. And we really do have a long list but I don't know any other way to compile such a list so we can make an analysis to determine what is routine and what is nonroutine."

"Under item three in reference to the rate of $10 an hour, I am not in favor of the rate, high, low or otherwise. We have to recognize that the taxpayer does have a right to information. That information should be made available to the taxpayer at no cost. Then it becomes incumbent on us to tell the staff where they get the money from."

Councilwoman Virginia Farmer thought that "routine" in the proposal could be defined rather easily as something that takes less than 15 minutes to 20 minutes.... "You may have to extend it to half an hour," she added.

Councilman Donald Holt stated that he believed all requests should be put in writing. "I do not agree with $10 an hour at all. I can only agree to extraordinary expenses....I agree that the decision of an independent department head should be appealed to the city administrator. I also feel that each one of these that goes before the city administrator, that the council

Heritage Days Opens Soon

An action-filled Placentia Heritage Days Festival, will open informally this year with the preliminary zany antics of a local Almost Anything Goes Bicentennial Olympics on October 4 and continue through a four day high-grad carnival, October 17.

In between days will be scheduled with a variety of activities from a juried art show, a pancake breakfast and the big annual parade.

The parade this year, the festival's 12th, will proceed on Saturday, October 9 at 11 a.m. and will run its usual route from Palm Drive and Kraemer Boulevard, over Madison and Bradford Avenues to Kraemer Memorial Park. Grand Marshals will be the well known rock group, Bo Donaldson and the Heywoods.

The carnival which will import large rides and locally operated game and food booths will stand for a four day period, Thursday through Sunday, October 14 through 17. The site for the carnival will be the southeast corner of Kraemer and Yorba Linda Boulevards.

Miss Carpenter Completes New History Book

Virginia Carpenter, a former employee of the Placentia Library, has completed a history book of Placentia, the author reported this week.

The manuscript is now at the publishers and is expected to be off the presses in time for Placentia's 50th birthday, December 2, 1976.

Miss Carpenter, a Fullerton resident, also is the author of "A Child's History of Placentia." The new book, with permission of the Placentia City Council will be named "Placentia—A Pleasant Place."

The book in progress, on which Miss Carpenter first began research about ten years ago, will be published by Pioneer Press, Santa Ana.

Tiger quarterback Rodriguez first crossed the pay line with two minutes left in the first half of the game. San Dimas was next on the scoreboard in the third quarter when Perry Aris darted down the field for an 89-yard touchdown.

The Tigers retaliated in a seven play sweep that put them over the goal line again and the extra point brought their efforts to the 14-7 score that remained through the final quarter.

The Tigers also were successful in breaking the Saints aerial attack with nine passes incompleting. Tiger Martin Mooney intercepted two in the crucial fourth quarter.

Tynes Receives Approval Raise

A glowing evaluation was given to John O. Tynes, Superintendent of Schools for the Placentia Unified School District Monday night, by his board of trustees along with an annual increase in salary of $1,700.

The increase in pay raises Tynes' annual wages to $39,000 a year. The Superintendent is currently on a three year contract.

In the public statement read by PUSD Board Clerk Jean Pappas, Tynes was praised for directing a district in which employees "have succeeded in increasing student achievement in the basic skills of reading, language arts and mathematics well above national averages."

"In addition, students throughout the district have demonstrated higher rates of achievement than were shown by the national averages for the past two years."

The board lauded Tynes' leadership in the Early Childhood Education program and expressed regret over "the strain the new collective bargaining law may have placed on employer-employee relationships."

"We, along with the superintendent, have made the improvement of that relationship one of our goals for the coming year," the statement continued.

Priorities listed to be accomplished included concentration on language skills and mathematics. Also increased involvement of parents and students in decision making.

Vigorous assistance "in legislative action designed to alleviate the ever-increasing burden on the local taxpayer, while maintaining a sound educational program under a balanced budget without tax increases," also was listed among the goals.

Teacher Contract

bargaining table Monday was a possible additional increase in salaries. The proposed contract now offers a 5.2 per cent salary increase across the board, besides the usual step and column increases teachers may earn.

This intention however was apparently withdrawn because of an unexpectedly smaller opening school enrollment (which affects revenues) and the length of time that could become involved in the legal procedures to effect such a move.

Trustees twice Monday retreated to lengthy executive sessions with the meeting extending until 1 a.m.

The new contract, if it holds, will raise minimums and maximums of teachers salaries to $9,693 and $21,363; increase district-paid life insurance from $10,000 to $20,000 for each employee and the district payment of a 14 per cent increase in Blue Cross health insurance.

In the document teachers have the option of joining or not joining PUEA and the right to see their personnel files and challenge materials in them.

interest group. It is recommended that the council solicit input from other groups prior to making a decision on the matter."

The ordinance was originally passed in Placentia, patterned after one in El Segundo. The latter city, reportedly has altered their law limiting inspections to outside of the structures only.

ECE Grants Requested

Grants totalling almost a million dollars from state and federal funding, are being sought by the Placentia Unified School District for special school programs here.

Trustees, at a recent meeting, approved application for $963,419 for Early Childhood Education programs at nine elementary schools, for Elementary and Secondary Education Act programs and a Bilingual Education Program at Glenview and Orchard Elementary schools.

The ECE programs would be funded at Rio Vista, Glenview, Wagner, Ruby Drive, Glenknoll, Fairmont, Morse, Van Buren and Sierra Vista elementary schools.

Elementary schools not having the Early Childhood Education program include Golden and Brookhaven elementary schools.

Hayes UCLA Band Manager

Greg Hayes of Placentia has been selected by the UCLA Band as band manager for the 1976-77 season.

According to Hayes, the manager's position is one of both leadership and administration, supervising a staff of 25 students and working closely with the director of the Bruin Band, Kelly James.

Hayes, a graduate of El Dorado High School, came to UCLA as a History major. Completing those requirements, he is currently taking education courses for a teaching credential.

Besides working with the Band, this summer Greg has also found time to coach Frosh-Soph Summer League basketball at El Dorado, as well as be a recreation leader with the Placentia Department of Parks and Recreation.

Last year at UCLA, Greg held the position of athletics director for the band, running an intramurals program in several sports.

The 21-year-old senior sees as his goal as band manager, "To make the UCLA Band the number one band in the nation."

ALOHA to the Dick Samps family was celebrated Friday night as the popular Samps received a roast and toast. Samps who has been head of Placentia's recreation department for 11 years is moving with his family to Lake Havasu City where they have purchased a bowling alley. In the picture are Samps, secretary Sylvia Ritchie, Mary Samps, former mayors Richard Demmer and Robert Langer and Samps.

Effort To Lower Property Taxes

A maximum effort to secure two million signatures from California's eight million voters, on petitions to lower the property tax, was described in Placentia Wednesday night by James Earle Christo, a Bellflower businessman.

Christo is California state vice chairman of the United Organization of Taxpayers, Inc.

Affected by the new legislation which is being sought, would be a reduction of taxes on owner occupied homes throughout the state.

Christo spoke here before members of the Placentia-Golden Homeowners Association, a group which has been active in a dispute with the city of Brea and Moreland Development Company, a subsidiary of Union Oil Company, over industrial zoning in Brea adjacent to their Placentia homes.

The speaker emphasized that taxation is driving people out of their homes and that the next generation may suffer even more.

"Census and industry statistics indicate that only about one-third of American families have enough income to carry the mortgage on the so called average home," Christo outlined. "In Orange County the median place is higher than the national figure...$55,000 for existing homes and $63,000 for new homes.

"The latest census bureau projections place median family income at $13,700 or about $2,000 short of the minimum required to qualify for a mortgage loan on a $44,500 home."

"How are your kids or my kids going to buy a home? A monthly payment for the $44,500 requires $322 for principal and interest and using the tax rates in California will add another $120 to that figure. That's $432 and that doesn't include the essentials such as telephone, the cost of living to stay in that home," Christo continued.

"When poverty steps in, love flies out the window. And I think today our social problems are compounded by our bureaucracies which have an insatiable greed for more and more and more without any thought at all to what is going to happen to our great country called the United States of America."

The proposal that the taxpayers organization hopes to put on the ballot through the referendum would require no tax on an owner-occupied home valued at $20,000. The tax would increase upwards until a home valued at $200,000 would pay a $2,800 assessment.

Christo recommended also that any bond issue on the November ballot be voted down. "Any bond issue that you vote on is a lien on your property. If the petition (tax reduction) gets on the ballot it's got to be June of 1978. I would recommend that any bond issue that comes up, I don't care what it is, vote against it. If you vote for it, you automatically put another lien on your property that has to be paid off even after our petition has been passed.

"You have feeding off of the property tax some 5,700 taxing agencies, some overlapping each other," Christo related.

"The legislature's not going to change the law. The school board certainly is not going to change the law. The California League of Cities is not going to change the law. So who is going to change the law?" Christo asked. "It's you!"

The new petition, Christo outlined, will increase the homeowners exemption from $7,000 to $20,000.

Concerning which source of taxation will pay for which services, Christo explained: "You want to pay (on your home) for property related services. You want to pay for police protection, fire protection, street maintenance, for sewers. But you certainly don't want to pay for welfare recipients. Let the state do that."

Christo also outlined that "the biggest fraud perpetrated on the taxpayer public in the state of California is the junior college system. It's part of the state university system and the state should be funding it...not you and me. These are the things we've got to close the loopholes on," he concluded.

KATIE'S COLUMN OR DOWN ON THE FARM by Kay Starr

Homeward bound. Everyone said to go to the north rim of the Grand Canyon: it was the prettier, more spectacular side. Who can judge, when you've seen only one side?

On the way home, we decided to turn north at Flagstaff to see the south rim—then we could decide which is better.

No decision. We came to the conclusion that both north rim and south rim are beautiful, awesome and individual in many ways. Sure the trees on the way to the north rim are delightful to look at and the deer grazing in the meadow fun to watch; but the south rim has a longer drive with many turn-out places, each spot a totally different aspect.

The south rim is definitely more commercial. Both rims have a long preliminary drive across the plateau. (We dodged steers on the road to the south rim and passed fields of brown-eyed susans—bright carpets of yellow.)

Mule trips are available as well as hiking trails at both rims. Four young people pushed off on one of the south rim trails as we watched. The two men seemed familiar with the trail. The two women made up for their lack of expertise by their exuberance for the journey to the canyon bottom.

About two viewpoints toward Grand Canyon Village, people with binoculars spotted hikers on the trail. With my naked eye, I couldn't tell if it was the group we watched leave, but seeing those little ants walking along the trail let us know the immensity of the canyon—and they weren't even at the bottom.

Actually, I think hiking down would be neat, despite my obvious dislike of heights; but it's coming back up that gets me. There is a helicopter service. That would be okay. Maybe I could hitch a ride with a mule train.

Or I could wait until they install escalators.

The balance of the journey home was uneventful, if you want to call the racket we made crossing the California border a mini-incident. Good thing the CHP didn't hear us.

We weren't happy to see the smog, but we had seen worse in Chicago and New York. Some way we have got to get rid of that brown gush.

I know, driving my car isn't helping. How about some of our good people figuring out a cleaner individual method of transportation using a different-type motor, perhaps?

You say a one-horse-power kind?

Well, maybe. Do you think it would be good for 10,000 miles in 35 days?

Secretary Quits Young

You can say she's retired, you can say she's a grandmother. But don't call Geraldine (Jerry) Schaffer a senior citizen.

After all, she's taking an early retirement after working almost 22 years for the Placentia Unified School District, and 20 of those years were spent as a secretary at elementary schools where "you don't have time to get old."

Mrs. Schaffer started her secretarial career in 1937 working with her brother, Chester Wolfe, in his new car agency in Fullerton, where the family had moved when she was in the second grade.

"I was a home ec major at Berkeley (University of California) and had only one more year to go for my degree," she said. "I planned to be a dietitian."

But her brother convinced her to take some quick courses in business and work with him—a move that changed her life.

When World War II became a part of life in the United States and automobiles became items for rationing, she got a job as a secretary for the Douglas Aircraft Company in Long Beach, a position she held until 1945, when she became the school secretary at McFadden Elementary School in Placentia.

"My sister, Marian Wolfe (who now lives in Fullerton), taught in the district for 29 years (1934-1963) and convinced me that Placentia was a pretty good place to work," Mrs. Schaffer recalled.

While she was at McFadden, she married Stephen Schaffer, a marriage that came to a tragic end when he was killed on his job six months later. However, from the marriage came a daughter, Stephanie, who became the center of Mrs. Schaffer's life.

"I quit working for 10 years, because I felt it was so important for Stephanie to have a parent available," she said.

But in 1957, she returned to the Placentia schools, working half days at Valencia High School and the other half in the district office. She became the district payroll clerk and assistant bookkeeper, a position she held for two years.

When Ruby Drive Elementary School opened in 1960, she became its secretary, working for five principals there before moving to Brookhaven Elementary School last year.

"When I was transferred to Brookhaven, I thought it was the worst thing that could happen," she remembered. "But I found out it was the best. I really loved the new challenges and experiences."

She found that "wherever you work with children, you're continually stimulated and restored. There are no two days alike. You're mother, nurse and counselor."

"I also like working in the schools, because when you work with educators, everyone just keeps on learning," she said. "It's always a growing environment. Things keep changing, and the changes in the world around us are reflected in educational trends."

Mrs. Schaffer doesn't plan to just step out of the learning environment. She has lots of plans to keep growing, including taking some college courses "That I've always wanted to take, probably in piano, painting and religion."

And she may do "a little traveling," noting that she's always wanted to take "one big trip," going to Norway and Switzerland.

She also may find time to become even more involved with the Santa Ana Toastmistresses, a group she has been in for four years, holding "every office but president." And she plans to continue working with her church, First United Methodist in Fullerton, where she has attended since she was 8 years old.

Perhaps she most looks forward to the time she can spend with her two granddaughters, Jill, 6, and Jenny, 2, Dinnebie. However, she has no plans to become "a built-in babysitter" while Stephanie works as an instructional aide at Ruby Drive Elementary School.

"Maybe I'll get some more reading in," she said, noting that she doesn't read fiction, because "I only have time to read for information. Maybe when I'm old and in a wheelchair, I'll have time for fiction," said the lady who'll never be a senior citizen.

Boat Info at Library

Sailing to Tahiti or perhaps only as far as Catalina? Before planning a voyage or afternoon on the water, stop by the Yorba Linda library to pick up some information on boats and boating.

A Bibliography and resource list compiled by the members of the Santiago Library System is now available for skippers and mates.

The bibliography gives a representative sampling of the many books of interest to boat owners which are available from local libraries. The resource list includes the names and addresses of businesses and organizations serving the boating public.

In conjunction with this special effort to aid and inform boaters, the Yorba Linda library will present "DOVE". The film which depicts the adventures of Robin Lee Graham who at sixteen sets out to circumnavigate the globe in his 24 foot sail boat.

"DOVE" will be shown on Thursday, October 7th in the library's community room at 7:30 p.m. The admission charge is 50 cents for all ages excepting Senior Citizens who are invited to attend free of charge.

Gant at Academy

Paul A. Gant, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. Gant of 5672 Grandview, Yorba Linda, has entered his freshman year at the U.S. Air Force Academy.

Cadet Gant is one of more than 1400 freshmen who were officially accepted into the cadet wing after completing six weeks of intensive field training, physical conditioning and survival instruction.

The cadet begins four years of academic study and military training that will lead to a B.S. degree and a commission as a second lieutenant.

Parents' Classes

The American Red Cross, Orange County Chapter, will sponsor a "Preparation for Parenthood" class beginning Thursday, Oct. 7, which will meet Thursdays except for the week of Oct. 28. Class meets from 7:30 to 9 p.m. at American Red Cross Chapter Headquarters, 601 N. Golden Circle Dr., Santa Ana.

The six-week course will be taught by Robbie Prepas and Pat Sterling both Registered Nurses. It will cover pre-natal care and labor and delivery, as well as practice sessions on bathing, feeding and dressing the newborn.

Pre-registration is required by calling the American Red Cross Nursing and Health Programs at 835-5381.

ROTARIAN Hoyt Corbit smiles as Club President David Kurisu pins a corsage on Mrs. [Julia] Corbit. Rotary honored Corbit recently with the Paul Harris Fellowship, the organization's highest recognition.

Rotary Honors Hoyt Corbit

The Yorba Linda Country Club was the scene of a recent festive Rotary get-together led by Dr. Jack Potter, Governor of District 532 and club president David Kurisu. Also attending were member's wives. One of the key events of the night was awarding the "Paul Harris Fellowship", Rotary's highest honor, to Hoyt Corbit. Corbit is one of Yorba Linda's earliest settlers, avocado packer and leading citizen. He was president of the club in 1950-51 and served as president of the Chamber of Commerce in 1949.

One of those who lauded Corbit was Rev. Joe Guthrie, an oldtime friend. Others included Hurless Barton, also a Harris Fellow, and Kurisu who recently received the coveted award.

The only Harris Fellow in the club who could not be present for the event was Ralph McGuire, a former Yorba Linda resident now living in Hemet.

The people at the County of Orange Recruitment and Placement Center are aware of the problems you're having and they are ready to help, the service which covers Placencia advised this week.

The Recruitment and Placement Center, located at 1801 Newport Blvd., in Costa Mesa has employment counselors, vocational facilitators and outreach coordinators whose only service is to assist you in reaching your job search goals.

The Recruitment and Placement Center is a by-product of Comprehensive Employment and Training Act of 1973 (CETA), federal legislation passed by Congress and signed into law by the President. The Act is designed to provide the disadvantaged and unemployed with meaningful counseling, vocational training and most importantly, assistance in gaining employment.

The Recruitment and Placement Center serves those residents of Orange County who are not already served by CETA programs in their own cities. Cities served by the Center include Placencia. In addition, the Center serves unincorporated areas of Orange County.

If you find you reside in one of the eligible cities or areas, and are unemployed or underemployed the Center's job banks are open to you Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. We might also be able to assist in arranging interviews with prospective employers.

If you are unemployed you might be eligible for even more comprehensive programs under the CETA Act. Among these is On-the-Job-Training, a program designed to offer job-related training and skill learning while you are being paid. Many employers in Orange County are participating in this program and jobs are becoming available everyday. To see if you qualify, call the Center at 645-0606.

With vocational education beginning in a short time, the center is currently accepting clients for interviews. There are a number of vocational training openings with community colleges throughout Orange County.

For North County residents, clerical skills and health cluster courses are offered at Cypress College, with Fullerton College scheduling a course in Machine shop.

Students may qualify to receive an income supplement while attending the courses offered. Interviews for these vocational educational opportunities are held throughout the year. It's important that you contact the center as soon as possible in order to be grams. The number in Costa Mesa is 645-0606 or the local number is 993-8178.

RD Friends Training Institute

Rose Drive Friends Church is hosting a "Here's Life, America" training institute this weekend, September 30-October 2. Several churches in the area will participate including Calvary Church, 1st Baptist Church, 1st Nazarene Redeemer Lutheran, Yorba Linda Friends, Moravian Community, Rose Drive Friends and 1st Baptist of Yorba Linda. Nearly 300 participants are expected at the confab.

"Here's Life" trains church members to share the basics of the Christian faith with neighbors and friends. Using a new "mediated" training approach the retention rate is phenomenal. Self-testing by attendees reveal they learn up to 90% of the material presented.

More than an academic exercise, the seminar includes on-the-job training. For many the greatest obstacle is not "head knowledge" but overcoming the fear barrier or talking about beliefs and convictions. The sessions emphasize the power of the Holy Spirit to give confidence.

Similar conferences are held in cities and communities throughout the nation during this bicentennial year. Christians everywhere sense an urgency in prayer and in calling Americans to a vital faith.

"The moral fibre of our nation is stretched almost to the breaking point" says Charles Mylander, associate pastor at the host church. "We need a vigorous call to active faith in Christ."

Peggy Bowen Upstages Her Ancestors

BY BETTY MEAD

In a personality quite her own, winsome Peggy Bowen could be sufficiently famous to suit anyone, just by recalling her illustrious heritage.

But talent will not be denied. And the area pioneer, who gave this part of the world the valencia orange also led to Peggy Bowen, his granddaughter, who had just published her first book of poetry.

The pioneer was Richard Hall Gillman. In 1862 Gillman set sail as a cabin boy, around Cape Horn and aimed at San Francisco. There he decided to run away from his ship and stay in the Golden State.

The history books all record that Gillman, who also was a progenitor of local historian, George Key, was the man who planted the first grove of valencia oranges in this area. The fruit subsequently became the perfect crop for the gentle climate and the two were inseparable until all the people came in the past few years.

But Gillman's granddaughter is still here. And she is not to be upstaged at all by what her grandfather did.

Miss Peggy has just published her first book of poetry, as charming and winsome as the author herself. The poems are the kind that everyone understands and that bear reading and re-reading.

Both the poems and the attractive authoress will be on hand Saturday where another star will be acclaimed...the Heritage House in the Arboretum at California State University at Fullerton.

"PENSAMIENTOS" means thoughts in Spanish, and also a colorful book of light verse penned by author Peg Bowen. Miss Bowen, is the granddaughter of Richard Gillman, the Placencia pioneer who planted the first grove of valencia oranges in the area. Miss Bowen here is presenting a copy of her poems to Placencia Library Director David Snow as a gift to the facility.

That is exactly the place where Richard Gillman planted the first valencia oranges. Peggy Bowen will be at the old ranch Saturday to autograph her clever book of poems with all proceeds from the sale of the book going to the Arboretum.

Included in the festivities Saturday will be a lasagna dinner at 6 p.m. at the Cal State University Club. Anyone attending the dinner will be treated to a tour of the Heritage House preceding from 4 to 6 p.m.

Miss Bowen, whose book of poems "Pensamientos" recalls her love of nature and the outdoors, recalls also that in 1880 when her grandfather planted the first valencias, the Cal State Fullerton campus was considered in the city of Placencia. That went, along with the orange groves, the petite authoress recalls.

President Rose Lembke announced today that the Chamber of Commerce will host the 13th Annual Citizen of the Year Awards, on November 6, at the Imperial Country Club.

Nominating applications have been mailed to clubs and organizations serving the Placencia area, however, individuals may also nominate candidates of their choice.

The awards, one female and one male, will be conferred for achievements, leadership and service to the community for the year 1975-76. The awards are for direct, outstanding service and has no relation to Chamber of Commerce membership. Nominees must either have lived or worked within the city limits of Placencia for, at least, the 12 months preceding the final filing date.

Applications are available at the Chamber office, 127 So. Bradford Ave., Placencia. Deadline for filing nominations is October 15, 1976.

An aggressive program of family-oriented activities has also been designed to meet the needs of the more than 300 local members.

The lodge meets each Thursday at 8 p.m. Men over the age of 21 are invited to join the organization.

Elks Plan Open House

The Placencia-Yorba Linda Elks Lodge #2536 is meeting regularly at its new location, 301 S. Main St., Placencia, while remodeling work is still in progress.

Lodge members have volunteered their time to remodel the interior of the building, and expect to have the final work completed in time for an open house in early November.

The lodge will include a formal meeting room, lobby, billiard room, offices and cocktail lounge for members and their guests, reported Robert Davis, exalted ruler.

Facilities will also be available for dancing, and for use by recognized groups and organizations, Davis added.

The B.P.O. Elks, an American fraternal organization created more than 100 years ago, chartered the local lodge in 1975. Current programs are designed to benefit the youth of Placencia and Yorba Linda, assist veterans still in V.A. hospitals and aid physically handicapped children throughout the state.

An aggressive program of family-oriented activities has also been designed to meet the needs of the more than 300 local members.

The lodge meets each Thursday at 8 p.m. Men over the age of 21 are invited to join the organization.

Local Man Aids Navajo Child

A needy youngster in Arizona has recently been sponsored by S. J. Graham, Yorba Linda.

Larry Etsitty, from an impoerished Navajo family, is now assisted by Graham through World Changers International, an organization which has been helping needy children in 16 countries for 16 years.

World Changers president W.T. Jeffers said Graham is "reaching out further than he can reach" by helping Larry. "This little boy has known nothing but hardship and neglect. Graham is now easing Larry's sorrow and is showing the way to a better life through our outstanding child - sponsorship program," Jeffers said.

Although the children enrolled in World Changers' sponsorship program do not make their homes with their sponsors, they do receive food, clothing, medical assistance and other needed items on a regular basis through World Changers.

VALENCIA WATER POLO TOURNAMENT--the Tigers won the first round of their water polo match against Orange 8 to 5 but lost out later in the tournament when bested by Saddleback 12 to 6. Here Chip Reiter, Tiger No. 30 scores.

Miraleste First in Water Polo

Miraleste became the champions. Saddleback second and Villa Park third in the three day water polo tournament hosted by Valencia High School at Valencia and Esperanza pools.

The hosting Tigers made it part of the way with a preliminary 8 to 5 win over Orange. Valencia lost out on the next round, however, when Saddleback marked up 12 tallies to Valencia's 6.

Other winners in the semifinals were Villa Park, 25 and Katella, 4 and Miraleste, 15 and San Marino, 6.

The consolation competition showed Orange with 8 to San Pedro's 11, Dana Hills, 6 to Arcadia, 2 and La Quinta, 8 and El Modena, 7.

In the consolation matches San Pedro had 8 over Santiago's 7 and Dana Hills

9 to La Quinta's 5. The final outcome was Dana Hills with a 5 and San Pedro, 1. Saddleback beat Sonora 6 to 4 in the last rounds and Miraleste was Villa Park's victor, 7 to 3.

The All Tournament Most Valuable Player was Kevin Krauss, Miraleste. Others on the honor team include Doug Kimbel, Villa Park; Steve McGowan, Saddleback; Jim Spornak, Saddleback; Mark Hanley, Miraleste; Cam McBee, Miraleste and goalie Keith Brandon, Villa Park.

In the first days preliminaries, Valencia beat Orange 8 to 5; Saddleback over San Pedro, 8 to 5; Sonora over Santiago, 10 to 2; Villa Park beat Dana Hills, 14 to 2; Katella over Arcadia, 15-0; Miraleste topped La Quinta, 16 to 3 and San Marino over El Modena, 17 to 4.

Esperanza Wins Upset

Bellflower High went into last Friday night's game with Esperanza ranked eighth in the CIF poll. But the tough Aztecs repelled all of the host team's attempts to win the game and came away with a 6-0 victory.

The only tally came in the third period. Rich Neria made his second interception on the Bellflower 26 and brought the ball to the seven. Don Stodola grabbed a pitchout and ran wide right for the six pointer.

The Aztecs made the touchdown stand up as they turned back Bellflower's repeated marches, one which had a first and one at the goal line.

The loser's took four cracks at the center of the Esperanza line with the ball ending up on the one foot line. After a punt Bellflower knocked again but a crushing pass rush stymied the TD attempt. One pass was intercepted to stop a drive.

Stodola carried 19 times for 99 yards. Signal caller Jim Teahan completed five of six passes for 56 yards.

The Esperanza Football Booster Club will meet on Tuesday, October 5, at 7:30 p.m. in the Teacher's Lounge at Esperanza High School.

Films of the Esperanza-

Valencia game will be shown and the coaches will be present to discuss the game and answer any questions.

Meetings are held every Tuesday during football season.

CSC Conference

The Children's Services Council of Orange County will hold its Fall Conference on October 2 from 8:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. at Fullerton College.

Six workshops are scheduled and there will be exhibits, films, materials exchange and idea sharing.

The Council is a non-profit group dedicated to coordinating, planning, developing and using all resources for children.

Hawks Watch One Go Bye

by Brian Hilderbrand

Despite losing a second straight pre-league contest to the Katella Knights, 29-7, El Dorado coach Glen Hastings still holds an optimistic outlook for his Hawks in league play.

When questioned about his team's chances in league, Hastings firmly stated: "We'll still be in there!"

Mike York, a senior fullback for the Knights, led his team past the Hawks, rushing for two touchdowns. York's first TD came early in the opening quarter as he dashed 18 yards around end for the score.

El Dorado came right back, though, with a score of their own. With 5:13 left in the initial period, Quarterback Brian David tossed a perfect pass to Mark Ashford for a 67 yard gain. On the next play, Ronn Bose took the ball in from the three, and Frank Weber added the PAT to tie the score at seven apiece.

The Knights pulled ahead in the second quarter with a 29 yard field goal by Greg Dodge. Katella stretched their lead to 17-17 after quarter back Wilson hit Brad Hess with a 34 yard TD pass. Dodge kicked his second PAT for the 10-point lead.

Katella iced the victory with six minutes remaining in the third period. With the ball at the one yard line, after back John Barnes rushed with the ball six times, York popped over for his second TD of the night. Dodge's PAT attempt was wide, and the Knights held a commanding 23-7 lead.

Katella's final score of the night came on a 26 yard pass from Wilson to Scott Gray. Again, the PAT by Dodge was foiled, to produce the 29-7 final.

ED's David threw for 82 yards, with three passes intercepted. Bose rushed for 42 yards, averaging 4.7 yards per carry.

"They were a better ball club, they handled us. We were in the ball game early and made a few mistakes and they took advantage of those mistakes," Hastings summed up.

The Golden Hawks face the Brea-Olinda Wildcats Saturday night at Bradford Stadium, at 8 p.m. Both Brea and the Hawks will be carrying 0-2 pre-league records into the contest.

On ED's chances in league this year, Hastings commented: "I think anybody could do it really," and went on to add: "I think it's still a rat race. Practice games are fun, but now we get down to the nitty-gritty...It should be fun!"

WAITE FOR ACTION - El Dorado's Keith Lehmann and Ken Owens keep in the game in spirit while awaiting their turn to get on the field. The Hawks will enter Orange League action against Brea Saturday night at Bradford stadium.

HAWK ON THE RUN - Jeff Hickok finds some running room during a generally frustrating night that saw the Hawks fall to Katella 29 to 7. The Hawks are 0 - 2 in pre-league play, but traditionally start slowly and improve as the season progresses.

Missing only on the Troy - Fullerton high school game and the San Diego-St. Louis pro game, Henry Romero of Anaheim was the winner in the second weekly "GRIDIRON GUESSES" Contest. SWAP MEET - Getting ready for the big event at Bernardo Yorba Jr. High on October 2 are, from left: Seventh graders Jodi Nearing, Brian Smith, Tim Whelan and Ways and Means Chairman of the PTA, Judy Smith.

BY Jr. High Swap Meet

Bernardo Yorba Junior High school PTA president Judy Fussell announced that rental space is available for the school swap meet, which will be held at the school on October 2 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Rental fee will be $5 per space open to the public and may be obtained by calling the school at 524-2250.

The swap meet is a fund raiser for the school, according to ways and means chairman Judy Smith. Many booths are being planned including arts and crafts, new and used items, food and game booths, plus a car wash.

Memory games and advice to the bride added to the charm and fun of the evening. Prizes were won by Miss Cindy Paridon and Mrs. Arthur Scarpa.

Among those attending were Mrs. George Bailey of Fullerton; Miss Lynn Guffey and Mrs. Cal Guffey of Yorba Linda; Mrs. Paul Hafner, Mrs. Louis Hirsch, Mrs. Keith Jones, Mrs. Vic Matson, Mrs. Al Nemsger, Mrs. Ronald Springer and Mrs. Jack Scarpa all of Placentia; Mrs. Boyd McDaniel, Mrs. Larry O'Rourke of Yorba Linda;

Shower Fetes Judy Scarpa

A bridal shower honoring Judy Scarpa of Placentia was held Friday evening in Yorba Linda. Hostesses for the event were Mrs. Jack Paridon of Laguna Niguel, and Mrs. Fred Pulcher whose home was the scene of the gala affair.

Festive table decorations included a floral centerpiece of pink and white carnations, flanked by tall pink candles glowing from silver candlebras.

A large sandwich cake decorated as a cake with wedding bells and flowers made with vegetables, but actually a triple layered sandwich with filling of ham salad and egg salad was served. A gelatin waldorf salad, coffee and a sherbet punch completed the refreshments.

Miss Cindy Paridon of Laguna Niguel; Mrs. Jack Rose of Anaheim Hills; and Mrs. Arthur Scarpa of Lakewood.

Best wishes and gifts were sent by the following people who were unable to attend because of conflicting schedules. Mrs. Ray Eckard, Mrs. Paul Jenkins, Mrs. Martha Lee, Mrs. Doug Prosch, Mrs. Frank Szalwinski, Miss Heidi Szalwinski and Mrs. Vernon Wilson.

An especially honored guest was Mrs. Louise Scarpa, the bride's grandmother who is here from Omaha, Nebraska for the wedding festivities. Miss Scarpa has chosen her grandmother to be her matron of honor at the October 16 ceremony.

Arboretum Plans Dinner

The Friends of the Arboretum, California State University, Fullerton, will hold their Fourth Annual Lasagna Dinner on campus Saturday, October 2. Members of the Arboretum and guests will meet at the newly completed University Center, 1220 N. State College Boulevard, at 6 p.m.

Doucent-guided tours of Heritage House, on the Arboretum grounds, will precede the dinner. Moved to its Arboretum site in 1972, Heritage House was originally built by Dr. George C. Clark, a pioneer Fullerton physician. The six-room structure is considered an excellent example of Victorian architecture as practiced in Orange County at the turn of the century.

The North Orange County Board of Realtors agreed to restore the house, a process which was completed in January, 1975. Arboretum plans call for a kitchen garden, seasonal flowers, fruit trees and a small rose garden, characteristic landscaping of the period.

Arboretum friends will charge $3.50 for the lasagna dinner, and will provide wine for a small donation. Friends and guests will receive a progress report on the Arboretum after dinner. Information regarding the Dinner or the Arboretum may be obtained from Mrs. Robert Belloil (527-7632), who will co-chair the event with Mmes. Karl Fine and Charles Frazee.

Guidelines For Free Meals

Placentia Unified School District today announced its policy for free and reduced-price meals and free milk for children unable to pay the full price of meals and milk served under the National School Lunch, School Breakfast, and Special Milk Programs.

Local school officials have adopted the following family size income criteria for determining eligibility:

For free meals and free milk, family size and monthly gross income ranges are: 1 $0 to $307; 2 $0 to $403; 3 $0 to $498; 4 $0 to $594; 5 $0 to $683; 6 $0 to $770; 7 $0 to $850 and 8 $0 to $929.

NOTE: Add $72 for each additional family member.

Reduced price meals, family size and monthly gross income ranges are: 1 $308 to $478; 2 $404 to $628; 3 $499 to $777; 4 $595 to $926; 5 $684 to $1064; 6 $771 to $1201; 7 $851 to $1326 and 8 $930 to $1449.

Add $112 for each additional member.

(Family size of one means a pupil who is his sole support. A foster child may be considered a family of one.)

whose income is at or below the levels shown are eligible for free meals and milk or reduced-price meals. In addition, families not meeting these criteria but with other unusual expenses due to unusually high medical expenses, shelter costs in excess of 30 per cent of income, special education expenses due to the mental or physical condition of a child, and disaster or casualty losses are urged to apply.

Application forms are being sent to all homes in a letter to parents. Additional copies are available at the principal's office in each school. The information provided on the application is confidential and will be used only for the purpose of determining eligibility. Applications may be submitted at any time during the year.

In certain cases foster children are also eligible for these benefits. If a family has foster children living with them and wishes to apply for such meals and milk for them, it should contact the school.

Under the provisions of the policy, school principals will review applications and determine eligibility. If a parent is dissatisfied with the ruling of the official, he may wish to discuss the decision with the determining official on an informal basis. If he wishes to make a formal appeal, he may make a request either orally or in writing to Jerry Dorn, director of pupil personnel, 1301 E. Orangethorpe Ave., Placentia, 524-4376 for a hearing to appeal the decision. The policy contains an outline of the hearing procedure.

If a family member becomes unemployed or if family size changes, the family should contact the school to file a new application. Such changes may make the children of the family eligible for reduced price meals or for additional benefits such as free meals and milk if the family income falls at or below the levels shown above.

In the operation of child feeding programs, no child will be discriminated against because of race, sex, color, or national origin.

Each school and the office of the Placentia Unified School District has a copy of the complete policy which may be reviewed by any interested party.

Poure at YL Friends

On Friday and Saturday, October 8th and 9th, the Yorba Linda Friends Church will host the Accent Family Forum as presented by Ken Poure.

Friday's seminar will begin at 7 and Saturday's sessions will run from 9 to 4:30. The cost is $5 or $3 for full time students.

Ken Poure is rapidly becoming one of California's most popular speakers on the subject of family life. The widespread success of his books and tapes has sparked such an interest that good attendance is achieved wherever he speaks... at conferences, women's clubs, or churches.

His Family Forum Sem-

nars have helped to save and enrich hundreds of marriages.

During the past 18 years of evangelistic ministry on the West Coast, Poure proclaimed this message of a living Christ in over 500 Family Forums, hundreds of Youth for Christ Rallies and Campus Clubs.

His background of 11 years as a successful used car dealer in Southern California and five years as Youth Pastor and 15 years as main speaker at Hume Lake Christian Camps has given him insight into life as it is.

His specialty has been making the principles of the Bible understood in the living of life on this planet.

Divorced, Separated Class

"Who am I now that I am alone?" A ten week class for divorced or separated will be offered at the United Methodist Church of Yorba Linda. The class will meet on Wednesdays starting October 13 at 7:30 p.m.

The class is designed to help people who are divorced or separated work through this very difficult period in their lives. It will help each person explore who they are in the light of their new situation.

There will be an opportunity to make new friends as a sense of community develops within the group. The class will also provide help in improving communication skills, and it will provide an opportunity to begin to look toward the future with more direction.

There will be a charge of $10 per person plus the purchase of a workbook for the course at $2.

The class will be limited in size to 25 participants. Phone your reservations to the church office 528-7066.

Characters From The Manor Gather To Reminisce

FUN, FOOD, AND FOND MEMORIES Enjoying a picnic as in the old days, a group of former Valencia residents got together Sunday for a good visit. At the near table are the Prescott Family - Son John, Inez, son Bill (backs to camera) Bill's wife Kitty, and Bob. John and Bill went through school from kindergarten through high school on the grounds that are now Valencia High School.

are Superintendent of Schools of the Placentia Unified School District and Mrs. John Tynes. Those invited Sunday to swap tales of travels, teaching, hobbies and interests were Rex and Myrna Beach, Marge Cassidy, Jack and Jane Crossley, Harry and Betty Eddy. Mrs. Gerhold, Charles and Florabel Heckel, Al and Lois Irwin, Jack and Erlene Mele, Nat and Margaret Norton and Jean Simpson, Bob and Ione Stull, John and Clairee Tynes, Margaret Varnum, Dickie West, Marion Wood and Dick and Marie Zisco.

New Home Permission Granted

Unanimous approval was granted applicant Richard Lopatriello Tuesday night, by the Placentia Planning Commission, to build a single family home on the northwest corner of Madison and Bradford Avenues. There was a minimum of discussion on the plans which include a 2,204 square foot house. A circular driveway in the front of the house will be required to avoid danger of backing out onto Madison Avenue, considered dangerous at the busy corner.

OLD PROS Charcoaling food for a group picnic as they did thirty years ago are Bob Stull and Hal Polley who taught drafting. The biggest difference other than the usual ones of time were that many of the group could now afford steak, quite a bit different from what teachers could afford in the forties.

DO YOU REMEMBER? Going through a Valencia annual from the forties are Marion Wood, Clairee Tynes, and Ione Stull, whose husbands taught both junior high and high school classes. Wood taught Vocational Agriculture, Tynes coached football and taught history, civics, and senior problems [a preparing for adult life course], and Stull coached basketball while teaching junior high math.

CATCHING UP on the groups activities and enjoying a pleasant day outdoors on the Valencia campus are former campus residents John Tynes, Harry Eddy, Mary Gerhold, and Betty Eddy. A converted school building provided housing for Valencia teachers during the post world war II shortage.

Diabetes Bike Ride Set

An army on wheels is being recruited for McDonald's Third Annual All Southern California Bike Ride Against Diabetes, to be held Sunday, October 3, to raise funds for the American Diabetes Association Southern California Affiliate (ADASC).

Riders may participate by obtaining a sponsor sheet at any McDonald's Restaurant in Southern California. The cyclists ask sponsors to pledge a specific amount of money for each mile the rider covers on a route in the rider's community.

There are 81 routes ranging through 154 communities in the ten county area served by ADASC, from San Luis Obispo County to San Diego County. Orange County has eleven bike routes ranging in size from 6 miles to 30 miles. The routes have been selected for safety and approved by law enforcement jurisdictions.

Gary Owens, Bike Ride Grand Marshal, will send off the first contingent of riders at 9 a.m. The all-day event ends at 5 p.m. Many other celebrities will participate as starters at other McDonald's Restaurants or as riders, said Owens, a radio personality of KMPC, Los Angeles.

Riders will start from a McDonald's Restaurant checkpoint-there are 242 participating McDonald's on the routes. There are a few optional checkpoints at parks or schools on some of the routes. Route and checkpoint chairmen for the eleven Orange County routes are volunteers from the eight Cosmopolitan Clubs of Orange County, including the Placentia Yorba Linda chapter.

Trained ADASC volunteers have been assigned to each checkpoint to assist the riders.

Individuals, families, clubs, and groups may participate. All sponsored riders receive coupons for free food and soft drink from McDonald's.

Hundred of prizes, including 242 handcrafted Windsor bicycles will be awarded to sponsored riders who raise the most money. Riders are eligible for prizes if they have been sponsored in any amount above 25 cents per mile.

Many schools throughout Orange County will also have sponsor sheets available to students. Sponsor sheets and further information may be obtained from the American Diabetes Association, Orange Field Office, 1215 E. Chapman Avenue, Suite 4-D, Orange, telephone: 639-4912.

Local Story Wins Awards

Dan Arrighi of Placentia earned three prizes as a winner this week in Dick Whittinghill's "Story Record" contest on radio station KMPC. Arrighi, of 1208 Hacienda Street, utilized Marlene Dietrich's recording of "I Can't Give You Anything approximately 59 conveyances of various sorts, almost one for each 2.2 employees.

The compilation of vehicles was made available by the city's finance department.

The most recent purchases of six vehicles by city taxpayers will amount to $21,910.66. This price will provide one compact sedan, two compact trucks and three, three-wheeled utility vehicles, it was outlined.

These conveyances will be added to 53 vehicles the city currently operates. Frank Dunnivant, Director of Finance for the city reports.

Vehicles for the most part are charged off the books with a five year depreciation schedule or at 70,000 miles, whichever comes first, Dunnivant said.

Among the wheeled accessories the city owns are the city administrator's 1975 Ford Custom 2-door. A new car originally was purchased each year for the city administrator, with his year old automobile reverting to the department head with the oldest car, but this practice has been abandoned for a new car every two to three years, it was reported.

The city administrator is allowed to use his city car for personal or city use within a radius of 150 miles around the city. For this he reimburses the city $30 a month.

A second car, a 1972 custom Ford is assigned to administration and is used by personnel directly under Edwin Powell, City Administrator.

A 1972 Pinto is available for the city's social services department and a 1976 Ford Station Wagon is used in the senior citizens Transportation - Lunch - Counseling program, (TLC) which is public supported.

In addition, the finance department has a car (Dunnivant and employees), a 1973 Maverick; a 1972 Pinto is used by the purchasing and business license employees and a 1970 Ford custom by the planning, building and engineering department. The newly purchased compact car will be used in this department.

City building inspectors use two 1972 Pintos and the engineering-building inspection-field survey crew personnel have three 1974 Couriers at their disposal. The director of recreation and maintenance Services Department uses a 1972 Ford and recreation department personnel have a 1972 Pinto.

Trucks and other vehicles in the maintenance department account for eight pickup trucks, six utility trucks and eight larger trucks including two dump trucks. There is one street sweeper. The city owns another but because of its age it is being sold.

The police department accounts for the remainder of the city-owned cars. For police investigation there are a 1973 Maverick, two 1974 Mavericks, and 1974 Nova and seven patrol cars. The Police Chief drives a 1970 Plymouth four-door sedan. There are a 1971 Plymouth patrol car and two 1974 Torinos that will be replaced with new cars.

A 1976 Maverick four-door is being used in Project Diversion concerning assistance for juveniles and there are four leased 1976 Mavericks, which were acquired for a four-city anti-burglary program. These are not added into the total of city-owned cars and will be returned when the program is completed. A fifth Maverick originally leased, will not be needed in the program, Dunnivant stated.

City Administrator Powell said that department heads are allowed to drive their vehicles home to garage them and as a convenience if they should be called back for night meetings or other functions.

These may be used for personal business on the way home but may not be driven by other individuals. Such privileges extend only to employees living in the city.

Among those on the car list are the director of finance; director of community development; director of recreation and maintenance services and the police chief.

Also the maintenance services superintendent, the maintenance foreman, the recreation superintendent, the recreation and maintenance services employee assigned to standby duty and any other employee whose regular duties may require him to respond from home, upon the prior approval of his department head and the city administrator.

Other city automobiles scheduled for purchase in the current 1976-77 budget include four police patrol cars to replace others.

City personnel numbers approximately 135 persons.

In the third period Bushala toted the ball on 11 of 14 plays for 61 of 76 yards on the drive. Bridgford scored the six points on a seven yard dash.

In the final period Troy went 63 yards with reserve quarterback Rod Maddux sweeping left end for 12 yards into the end zone.
